Medical.

Hoofland's German Bitters,

AND

HOOFLAND'S GERMAN TONIC.

The Great Remedies for all Diseases of the LIVER, STOMACH, OR DIGESTIVE ORGANS.

Hoofland's German Bitters

Is composed of the pure juices (or, as they are medicinally termed, Extracts) of Roots, Herbs, and Barks, making a preparation, highly concentrated, and entirely free from alcoholic admixture of any kind.

HOOFLAND'S GERMAN TONIC,

Is a combination of all the ingredients of the Bitters with the purest quality of Santa Cruz Rum, Orange, &c., making one of the most pleasant and agreeable remedies ever offered to the public.

Those preferring a Medicine free from Alcoholic admixture, will use

HOOFLAND'S GERMAN BITTERS.

Those who have no objection to the combination of the Bitters, as stated, will use

HOOFLAND'S GERMAN TONIC.

They are both equally good, and contain the same medicinal virtues, the choice between the two being a mere matter of taste, the Tonic being the most palatable.

The stomach, from a variety of causes, such as Indigestion, Dyspepsia, Nervous Debility, etc., is very apt to have its functions deranged. The Liver, sympathizing as closely as it does with the Stomach, then becomes affected, the result of which is that the patient suffers from several or more of the following diseases:

Constipation, Flatulence, Inward Piles, Fullness of Blood to the Head, Acidity of the Stomach, Nausea, Heart-burn, Disgust for Food, Fulness or Weight in the Stomach, Sour Eructations, Sinking or Fluttering at the Pit of the Stomach, Swimming of the Head, Hurried or Difficult Breathing, Fluttering at the Heart, Choking or Suffocating Sensations when in a Lying Posture, Dimness of Vision, Dots or Webs before the Sight, Dull Pain in the Head, Deficiency of Perspiration, Yellowness of the Skin and Eyes, Plain in the Side, Back, Chest, Limbs, etc., Sudden Flushes of Heat, Burning in the Flesh, Constant Imaginings of Evil, and Great Depression of Spirits.

The sufferer from these diseases should exercise the greatest caution in the selection of a remedy for his case, purchasing only that which he is assured from his investigations and inquiries possesses true merit, is skilfully compounded, is free from injurious ingredients, and has established for itself a reputation for the cure of these diseases. In this connection we would submit those well-known remedies—

HOOFLAND'S GERMAN BITTERS,

AND

HOOFLAND'S GERMAN TONIC.

PREPARED BY Dr. C. M. JACKSON,

PHILADELPHIA, PA

Twenty-two years since they were first introduced into this country from Germany, during which time they have undoubtedly performed more cures, and benefited suffering humanity to a greater extent, than any other remedies known to the public.

These remedies will effectually cure Liver Complaint, Jaundice, Dyspepsia, Chronic or Nervous Debility Chronic Diarrhœa, Disease of the Kidneys, and all Diseases arising from a Disordered Liver, Stomach, or Intestines.

DEBILITY,

Resulting from any Cause whatever; PROSTRATION OF THE SYSTEM, induced by Severe Labor, Hardships, Exposure, Fevers, etc.

There is no medicine extant equal to these remedies in such cases. A tone and vigor is imparted to the whole system, the appetite is strengthened, food is enjoyed, the stomach digests promptly, the blood is purified, the complexion becomes sound and healthy, the yellow tinge is eradicated from the eyes, a bloom is given to the cheeks, and the weak and nervous invalid becomes a strong and healthy being.

PERSONS ADVANCED IN LIFE,

And feeling the hand of time weighing heavily upon them, with all its attendant ills, will find in the use of this BITTERS, or the TONIC, an elixir that will instil new life into their veins, restore in a measure the energy and ardor of more youthful days, build up their shrunken forms, and give health and happiness to their remaining years.

NOTICE.

It is a well-established fact that fully one-half of the female portion of our population are seldom in the enjoyment of good health; or, to use their own expression, "never feel well." They are languid, devoid of all energy, extremely nervous, and have no appetite.

To this class of persons the BITTERS, or the TONIC, is especially recommended.

WEAK AND DELICATE CHILDREN

Are made strong by the use of either of these remedies. They will cure every case of MARASMUS, without fail.

Thousands of certificates have accumulated in the hands of the proprietor, but space will allow of the publication of but a few. Those, it will be observed, are men of note and of such standing that they must be believed.

TESTIMONIALS.

HON. GEO. W. WOODWARD,

Chief Justice of the Supreme Court of Penna., writes:

Philadelphia, March 16, 1867.

"I find 'Hoofland's German Bitters' is a good tonic, useful in diseases of the digestive organs, and of great benefit in cases of debility, and want of nervous action in the system. Yours, truly, GEO. W. WOODWARD."

HON. JAMES THOMPSON,

Judge of the Supreme Court of Pennsylvania.

Philadelphia, April 28, 1866.

"I consider 'Hoofland's German Bitters' a valuable medicine in case of attacks of Indigestion or Dyspepsia, I can certify this from my experience of it.
Yours, with respect,
JAMES THOMPSON."

FROM REV. JOSEPH H. KENNARD, D. D.,

Pastor of the Tenth Baptist Church, Philadelphia.

Dr. Jackson—Dear Sir:—I have been frequently requested to connect my name with recommendations of different kinds of medicines, but regarding the practice as out of my appropriate sphere, I have in all cases declined; but with a clear proof in various instances and particularly in my own family, of the usefulness of Dr. Hoofland's German Bitters, I depart for once from my usual course, to express my full conviction that, for general debility of the system, and especially for Liver Complaint, it is a safe and valuable preparation. In some cases it may fail; but usually, I doubt not, it will be very beneficial to those who suffer from the above causes.
Yours, very respectfully,
J. H. KENNARD,
Eighth, below Coates st.

FROM REV. E. D. FENDALL,

Assistant Editor Christian Chronicle, Philadelphia.

I have derived decided benefit from the use of Hoofland's German Bitters, and feel it my privilege to recommend them as a most valuable tonic, to all who are suffering from general debility or from diseases arising from derangement of the liver. Yours, truly,
E. D. FENDALL.

Sewing Machines.

THE HOWE MACHINE CO.'S SEWING MACHINES,

699 BROADWAY, NEW YORK.

These World-renowned Sewing Machines were awarded the Highest Premium at the World's Fair, in London, and six First Premiums at the N. Y. State Fair of 1866, and are celebrated for doing the best work, using a much smaller needle for the same thread than any other machine, and by the introduction of the most approved machinery, we are now able to supply the very best machines in the world.

These machines are made at our new and spacious Factory at Bridgeport, Conn., under the immediate supervision of the President of the Company, ELIAS HOWE, Jr., the original inventor of the Sewing Machine.

They are adapted to all kinds of Family Sewing, and to the use of Seamstresses, Dress Makers, Tailors, Manufacturers of Shirts, Collars, Skirts, Cloaks, Mantillas, Clothing, Hats, Caps, Corsets, Boots, Shoes, Harness, Saddles, Linen Goods, Umbrellas, Parasols, etc. They work equally well upon silk, linen, cotton or woolen goods with silk, cotton or linen thread. They will seam, quilt, gather, hem, fell, cord, braid, bind and perform every species of sewing, making a beautiful and perfect stitch, alike on both sides of the article sewed.

The Stitch invented by Mr. HOWE, and made on this Machine, is the most popular and durable, and all Sewing Machines are subject to the principle invented by him. Send for Circulars.

SEWING MACHINES!

THE GROVER & BAKER.

THE BEST IN USE.—These Machines have become so well known that little need be said by way of recommendation. They have taken the first premium at all the late State Fairs, and are universally acknowledged to be the BEST in use by all who have tried them. The "Grover & Baker Stitch" and the "Shuttle Stitch" are points that have been attained by no other Machine.—They are the only Machines that sew and embroider with perfection. These Machines are peculiarly adapted to Family use. They are almost noiseless, sew directly from the spool without rewinding, and are simple in their construction. They are easy to manage, and can be worked by almost any child. Every family should have one. They save labor, they save time, and they save money, and do their work better than it can be done by hand.

The undersigned having been appointed Agent for the above Machines, has established an Agency in Fairfield, Adams co., where he will always have on hand a supply. Persons wishing to buy will please call and examine for themselves.

The Star and Sentinel.

THE following magnificent lyric was written by THOMAS BUCHANAN READ, in commemoration of SHERIDAN'S famous ride from Winchester to the front, on hearing of the discomfiture of his valiant little army—his re-forming its shattered battalions, and changing, by the inspiration of his personal presence, apparent defeat into the glorious victory of Cedar Creek:

SHERIDAN'S RIDE.

Up from the South at break of day,
Bringing to Winchester fresh dismay,
The affrighted air with a shudder bore,
Like a herald in haste to the chieftain's door,
The terrible rumble and grumble and roar,
Telling the battle was on once more,
And SHERIDAN twenty miles away!

And wider still those billows of war
Thunder'd along the horizon's bar!
And louder yet into Winchester roll'd
The roar of that red sea uncontroll'd,
Making the blood of the listener cold
As he thought of the stake in that fiery fray,
And SHERIDAN twenty miles away!

But there is a road from Winchester town,
A good, broad highway leading down;
And there, through the flush of the morning light,
A steed, as black as the steeds of night,
Was seen to pass as with eagle flight—
As if he knew the terrible need
He stretched away with his utmost speed;
Hill rose and fell; but his heart was gay,
With SHERIDAN fifteen miles away!

Still sprung from those swift hoofs thundering south,
The dust, like the smoke from the cannon's mouth,
Or the trail of a comet sweeping faster and faster,
Foreboding to traitors the doom of disaster;
The heart of the steed and the heart of the master
Were beating like prisoners assaulting their walls,
Impatient to be where the battle-field calls;
Every nerve of the charger was strain'd to full play,
With SHERIDAN only ten miles away!

Under his spurning feet, the road
Like an arrowy Alpine river flow'd,
And the landscape sped away behind
Like an ocean flying before the wind;
And the steed, like a bark fed with furnace ire,
Swept on, with his wild eyes full of fire.
But, lo! he is nearing his heart's desire—
He is snuffing the smoke of the roaring fray,
With SHERIDAN only five miles away!

The first that the General saw were the groups
Of stragglers, and then the retreating troops;
What was done—what to do—a glance told him both!
Then striking his spurs, with a terrible oath
He dash'd down the line 'mid a storm of huzzas,
And the wave of retreat check'd its course there, because
The sight of the master compell'd it to pause.
With foam and with dust the black charger was gray;—
By the flash of his eye and his red nostrils' play,
He seem'd to the whole great army to say:
"I have brought you SHERIDAN all the way
From Winchester down to save the day!"

Hurrah! hurrah for SHERIDAN!
Hurrah! hurrah for horse and man!
And when their statues are placed on high
Under the dome of the Union sky,
The American soldiers' Temple of Fame,
There with the glorious General's name
Be it said in letters both bold and bright:
"Here is the steed that saved the day
By carrying SHERIDAN into the fight,
From Winchester—twenty miles away!"

GOD COUNTS.—A brother and sister were playing in the dining room, when their mother set a basket of cakes on the tea-table and went out.

"How nice they look?" said the boy, reaching to take one. His sister earnestly objected, and even drew back his hand, repeating that it was against their mother's direction.

"She did not count them," said he.

"But perhaps God did," answered the sister.

So he withdrew from the temptation, and, sitting down seemed to meditate. "You are right," replied he, looking at her with a cheerful yet serious air, "God does count; for the Bible says the hairs of our heads are all numbered."

PRECOCIOUS.—Three little girls were playing amoung the sage brush in the back yard. Two of them were "making believe keep house" a few yards distant from each other—neighbors as it were. One of them says to the third: "There now, Nelly, you go to Sarah's house, and stop a little while and talk, and then come back and tell me what she says about me; and then I'll talk about her; then you go and tell her all I say, and then we'll get mad and won't speak to each other, just like our mothers do, you know. O! that'll be such fun!"

PAT'S idea of sympathy was a good one. He had long been trying to get Bridget to give him a parting kiss. Finally as a last resort, he turned away, saying, "Good-bye, Biddy! Sure and ye haven't any sympathy for me at all."

"Sympathy, is it? And what do you mane by that, Patrick?"

"Come here, Biddy, and I'll be after telling ye! When I love ye so, that I'd like to bite a piece rite out of your swate cheek, and ye feell as if ye'd like me to do so, that's sympathy, be jabbers."

"Ah, Patrick! you know my wakeness! Take a piece; but be sure and lave it, so that ye can take it again when ye come!"

DOUGLASS JERROLD felicitously said that the earth laughs with harvest when it is tickled with the hoe. The following is the most practical and Sambonian method of illustrating the same idea:

"I say, Sambo, does you know what makes the corn grow so fast when you put manure on it?"

"No I don't hardly."

"No, I'll just tell ye: When de corn begins to smell de manure, it don't like de fumery, so it hurries out of de ground, and sits up as high as possible, so as not to breathe de bad air."

AN English merchant was dining with a Chinese Mandarin, when it struck him that perhaps the dish he had eaten of so heartily might have been stewed cats, for he heard that they ate cats in China. The Chinaman didn't know English, so his guest anxiously pointing to the dish asked, "Mi-ow, mi-ow?" "No, no," said the Mandarin, "Bow-wow."

AT a hotel dinner a gentleman observed a person who sat opposite use a toothpick which had just done the same service to his neighbor. Wishing to apprise him of his mistake, he said, "I beg your pardon, sir, but you are using Mr. ——'s toothpick." "I know I am. Do you think that I am not going to return it?"

INDUSTRIAL PROSPECTS OF NOVA SCOTIA.

MESSRS. EDITORS:—

Since I last wrote you in regard to Nova Scotia, circumstances have happened to cast a doubt upon confederation, and to tinge with gloom the minds of some of its most ardent supporters. England would rather lose Canada and New Brunswick than Nova Scotia.

It is a country rich in mineral deposits. If its position be not wholly disadvantageous, it must become a prosperous and powerful country, and John Bull knows it. Nova Scotia has both a splendid position and capabilities as a mining country, which are only beginning to be half understood. They have Gold mines yielding already half a million of dollars' worth annually. They have iron deposits of the very finest quality. But, more valuable than all others, in this age, they have abundant supplies of coal. The annual products of their mines already bring little short of two millions of dollars annually into the Province.

The natural market for their coal, till they have a much larger domestic consumption, must always be found in the seaboard cities of the United States. They say that our country has seen fit to interrupt their trade by the imposition of a high duty on coal. This is wrong, and until this folly is repented of, their coal-mining interests must to some extent languish. They think there is no probability that the present state of things in the States will continue much longer. When the duty on coal is removed they expect a great revival of this trade, which gave such large dividends to shareholders, and such remunerative employment to their shipping.

A coal mine has two distinct values. It enriches those who own it, for it yields a commodity which is in universal demand, and the constant exportation of which brings money into the country. It also affords remunerative employment to large numbers of persons in working it. But this is the least value of a coal mine to a country so circumstanced as to be able to take advantage of it. It is in the great things which it makes possible that its chief value lies. Of all the modes by which a community may acquire wealth, none is so rapid or so reliable as manufacturing. Here it is that the possession of coal gives prodigious advantage. Steam is the giant that fills the world with wonders; and coal is the father of steam. Coal, therefore, means power. It means, where the proper conditions exist, looms and mills and factories, where tens of thousands of busy hands shall find employment in converting the raw products of the earth into merchantable wares.

Nova Scotia possesses coal in limitless abundance. Her geographical position is all that could be desired for a manufacturing country. She is both nearer to the Old World than any other port of America, and, nearer to the great raw material producing countries of America than any country of the Old World. Her commerce is not subject to interruption by the frosts of winter, nor by the pestilential diseases which sweep through southern countries in summer. Everything that nature could do has been done to make this country the home of a manufacturing population numbered by millions, and rich in all that constitutes worldly wealth.

Why then is it that so little has been done towards taking advantage of these immense natural endowments? Why is it that with all the necessary means for a large manufacturing industry existing in such prodigal abundance within their borders, they have no corresponding development of manufactures? Why has their wood always gone to the United States to be manufactured and then sent back to them? Why has the cotton of the South always passed by their shores to be woven in the looms of Lancashire, and thence brought back three thousand miles to be worn by them? These are questions which should awaken their attention, and concern them deeply. It is plain that something has been wrong in their industrial economy. Something has prevented them from reaping those advantages which it was manifestly designed they should reap from a most commanding position and matchless natural resources.—What is that something? The answer is not far to seek.

In addition to all natural facilities, there is one other thing, without which manufactures cannot flourish: a large and reliable market. It is not enough that they have the means for converting raw material into articles ready for use, unless they can also offer some reasonable guarantee that the articles, when ready, will find purchasers at such prices as will make the business profitable to those engaged in it.

Such a market they have never been able to offer. Manufacturing, in order to be remunerative, must be carried on, on a large scale. The profits of modern manufactures depend on the ability to produce large quantities. Sharp competition has brought prices to a figure at which small establishments cannot live.

Nova Scotia, with her numerically insignificant population of 350,000, could not give a market sufficiently extensive for a large manufacturing establishment of any kind. Such an establishment would have to seek outside of her bounds for customers. Her manufacturer would have to enter the markets of the United States, Canada or New Brunswick at a tremendous disadvantage in comparison with the native manufacturers—at such a disadvantage as to cut off all hope of engaging in such business with profit.

I am a believer in the principles of free trade. No country can become a truly great commercial country without adopting free trade as its policy. But there are limits to the application of all general principles. At this stage of the world's progress, manufactures require in their infancy a certain amount of protection. By protection I mean a market which they can enter with more or less of an advantage over the large establishments of older manufacturing countries. In other words, they in Nova Scotia, in order to become a manufacturing people, need only the advantages of a free market. When their manufactures have become well-established, they will not need protection. The young plant needs the shelter and stimulus of the hot-house, but it is only for a time. When its fibres have attained some firmness, and the system given for its nourishment and growth has got into fair working order, the hot-house is no longer necessary. If the soil and climate are naturally adapted for it, it will thenceforth flourish best when exposed to the sun and rain and winds of heaven. So it is with manufactures.

There appears to be a movement towards the creation of a manufacturing industry in Nova Scotia. [illegible] their own moneyed men will not come forward and occupy the field, it will not be long before the capitalists of other countries will step in and do so. Nowhere is there open a better chance for the successful investment of capital in manufacturing enterprises.

The Corners Rebels—Repudiation of Johnson by the Slouchy Democracy of that Democratic Locality.

POST OFFIS, CONFEDRIT X ROADS, }
(Wich is in the Stait uv Kentucky), }
January 25, 1868. }

The Corners met last night to consider the situashen uv the country, and in view uv the impendin crisis it wuz voted that I be instructed to pen a address to A. Johnson, settin forth the troubles to wich he hez brot us, and sejestin remedies. The Corners meets frekently. In fact when cash runs low and Bascom refooses to trust, we hold a politikle meetin. It acts ez a stimilent and takes the place uv our nateral sustenance. Very comfortable. Thus empowered, I wrote ez follows, wich will, I doubt not, make a sensashen when it reaches Washinton:

To A. Johnson, Prest. U. S.

The Democracy uv Confedrit X Roads, wich is in the State uv Kentucky, representin the Democracy uv the rest uv the State, and uv the country ez well, cannot hold their peece no longer. They must speek or bust. They herd the news, and ther hez bin nothin but weepin at the Corners since. Bascom, that sterlin patriot, is sheddin pearls by the bucket full. Deekin Pogram weeps not in drops, but in streems, and az for me, yoo wooden't beleeve the amount uv pockit handkerchers I hev consumed. Never hez ther bin sich a moist time at the Corners, never hev we lived in sich an atmosphere uv dampnis.

I shal speak plainly. I am not a afeered to speek. Yoo can't remove me. The tenur uv offis act pertects me, and yoo can't remove me. Therefore I speak.

The Corners feels itself outraged. When the Corners took stock in you, the Corners spozed yoo hed nerve enuff to run the Administrashen yoorself. The Corners felt that her interests wuz safe in yoor hands. We to wunst commenct operation from that standpint. Deekin Pogram got his niggers together, sich uv em ez hedn't bin sacrifist at different times, and commenst wallupin uv em uv yoar, and the others in this visinity give theirn the opshen uv quietly submittin to ther inevitable fate, or bein shot. Wat wuz the result? The Freedmen's Burow come in, and them niggers, instid of bein made servants unto their brethren, hev bin permitted to accumulate property and live in all respecks jist ez tho they wuz white men uv the dominant race. Agin this injustice we held up our hands, and yoo hev made many passes towards rectifyin it, but to what avail? Sich weaknis never before disgraced the histry of Amerikin politiks. Yoo kep Stanton in place ontil the voice uv an indignant Democrisy demanded his removal.—Then wuz yoor opportunity. Ther wuz Dimocrats who wood hev took it. Ginral Steedman or Ginral Rosso wood either uv em hev bin glad to serve the country in that caparsity, but blindly yoo rushed upon fate by puttin in that place Grant. Grant, whose hands is stained with Southern blood, which he haint washed off. Grant, the Ablish candidate for the Presidency! Grant, who by economisin at the rate uv about $25,000,000 per annum, demonstrated to the country the stealing that wuz goin on in the other departments.—Grant, who is ez much worse than Stanton ez a head lite to a locomotived is superior to a tallor candle! Oh, wot loonacy! Oh, wot weakness!

Then agin. The people uv the Third Deestrick groaned under the oppression of Pope; that is, the white people did. He wuz carryin with ruthlis severity the laws of a usurpin Congris. He wuz a persekootin the saints—he wuz a guardin and pertectin the pie-bald Convenshen wich is wrestin from us one uv our best States. Alabama cried out in agony and yoo heerd her. How? Yoo removed Pope and put in his place Meade. We felt relieved; not but Meade's antecedents were agin us, but we did spose that you wood not agin fall into that same old trap. But you did. The first act of the cussed Meade wuz to remove the Guvner and Treasurer, who woodent pay the expenses uv the unconstooshnel Convenshen, and to-day the people who trembled at the name uv Pope shiver at the menshen uv Meade.

But yoor disgrace does not end here.—Forthwith a unconstooshnel Senit, from which ten States are exclooded, turns in and replaces Stanton, givin him agin the posishen uv wich yoo attempted to deprive him, and yoo take it mild ez milk and ez quietly ez a lamb!

Then agin. You hev instruktid yoor orgins to spred the report that General Grant wuz in the constant habit uv bein intoxicated!—Miserable error! Mistaken policy! You may possibly make some Ablishnist bleeve it and detach em from him, but yoo also attach the entire Democrisy to him with hooks uv steel. Fasten that charge upon him—make Kentucky bleeve it, and Kentucky would tomorrow give him her electoral vote. Don't yoo remember that the Democrisy took no stock in yoo till after the 22d uv Febrooary speech? and didn't they support yoo corjelly from that time out?

I hev no pashence to add more. Indignantly I close this epistle. I hev stood by yoo throo thick and thin. I wuz at yoor side on the two toors North and the one South; I apologized for yoor short comins, glossed over yoor faults and explained away yoor weekness. At Clevelane, for instance, I told em, after yoo hed made yoor speech, that yoo were drunk, when yoo waznt, and hundreds uv other times I hev explained away yoor excentrissities similarly.

And further, it wuz me who prokoored on yoor first trip the only indorsement yoo ever got from Grant. All along the road west yoo and Seward hed bin endeavorin in vain to git some expression from Grant. What yoo did not care, but yoo coodent git it. He stood up ez immovable ez a stun, expressin neither by words or countenance nothin. At Battle Creek, wich is in the State uv Michigan, Secretary Seward, in his speech in response tu the calls for Grant, remarked, "Yoo can't divide General Grant from the President—he is with us!" Ez the words left the Secretary's lips, az ef by inspirashen I pulled a pin from my coat and plunged it intu the General, jist about two inches below the buttons on his coat behind. Uv course he bowed—not gracefully, but it was a bow. It hez cost me more labor, more finanshel ability to keep yoo agoin, than wood hev sufficed to hev bot a small German kingdom and run it.

But I shel do it no more; I withdraw miself from yoor support. My self-respeck will not longer permit me to rank miself with yoor endorsers. The Corners is outraged. Deekin Pogram is outraged, and Bascom is outraged. Yoo mite hev made for yoorself a name and place in history, but its too late. We shel nominate for President some one who will be troo to his friends and terrible to his enemies; who will, ef electid, at least carry out ez much uv Dimocratic principles ez ther happens to be left at that time. Yoor short stay in the ranks uv Ablishism rooined yoo. Yoo lost yoor distinktive characteristics, and are now a poor bein, combinin in yoor person everything that is bad in both organizations, with nothin that is good. The Corners repudiates yoo.

"MRS. CATHERINE," said Patrick to his wife, "you never catch a lie coming out of my mouth." "You may well say that," replied Kate; "they fly out so fast, that nobody can catch 'em."

"YOU had better ask for manners than money," said a finely-dressed gentleman to a beggar who asked for alms. "I asked for what I thought you had the most of," was the cutting reply.

THE PROPOSED IMPEACHMENT.

Our news columns contain the papers upon which the proposed Impeachment is based. The PRESIDENT has undertaken to remove Secretary STANTON, during the session of the Senate, without the consent of that body. This action is in violation of the Constitution. Its words are:

> ART. 2, SECT. 2. The President shall nominate, and by and with the consent of the Senate, shall appoint all other officers whose appointments are not herein otherwise provided for, and which shall be established by law.—The President shall have power to fill up all vacancies that may happen during the recess of the Senate, by granting commissions which shall expire at the end of their next session."

In this instance, the PRESIDENT has attempted to create a vacancy during the session of the Senate by making a removal, and to fill the vacancy without the advice and consent of the Senate! No such exercise of authority has ever before been attempted by any President; and, we hope, none will ever be again, for it is essentially and exclusively a usurpation of authority not granted by the Constitution or the laws, which Constitution and the laws of the United States made in pursuance thereof, it is expressly provided in the Constitution, shall be the supreme law of the land.

But the PRESIDENT's action is also in direct disregard of the Civil Tenure Act, passed March 2, 1867, the first section of which provides,

> "That every person, holding any civil office to which he has been appointed by and with the advice and consent of the Senate, and every person who shall hereafter be appointed to any such office and shall become duly qualified to act therein, IS, AND SHALL BE ENTITLED TO HOLD SUCH OFFICE UNTIL A SUCCESSOR SHALL HAVE BEEN, IN LIKE MANNER, APPOINTED AND DULY QUALIFIED, except as herein otherwise provided. Provided, That, the Secretaries of State, of the Treasury, of War, of the Navy, and of the Interior, the Postmaster General, and the Attorney General, shall hold their offices respectively for and during the term of the President by whom they may have been appointed, and for one month thereafter, subject to be removed by and with the advice and consent of the Senate."

Mr. STANTON was Secretary of War when this act was passed; and the term of the President by whom he was appointed," runs to March 4, 1869; so that, under the law, his right to remain Secretary of War was defined as continuing till March of next year, and one month thereafter. In disregard of this law, President JOHNSON attempted to remove him, "without the advice and consent of the Senate."

The PRESIDENT also attempted to designate a temporary successor, and ordered the Adjutant General of the Army to act as temporary Secretary of War, issuing to him a letter of outhority to that effect. By the sixth section of the Civil Tenure Act, the issuing of such commission or letter of authority, is made a "high misdemeanor," for which also the House of Representatives will arraign the PRESIDENT at the bar of the Senate for trial.

The legal question is clear. There is no division among Republicans; and we hear of several leading Democrats at Washington, who say they cannot justify this last action of the PRESIDENT.—The Constitution is explicit. The law passed under it is upon the Statute-book, and both are binding upon President JOHNSON, as binding upon him as upon the humblest citizen. He has attempted to violate it; he has purposely and manifestly disregarded it; and he will be held to answer therefor.

There is little doubt what will be the verdict of the jury. There is no room to doubt the guilt, and the guilty purpose of the culprit. And the country will be relieved when sentence shall have been pronounced and executed, and this bad man paid the penalty of his many conspiracies, treacheries and crimes. For this, a few weeks will, we trust, suffice.

PRESIDENT JOHNSON's long course of perfidy, violence, and usurpation, culminated on Friday last in deliberately trampling on the laws of the land, and has compelled the House to impeach him at the bar of the Senate. In consequence of the all-absorbing interest growing out of this new complication, we surrender a large portion of our columns to-day to Washington news, to the exclusion of other matter.

THE name of our Representative, Hon. Wm. H. KOONTZ, does not appear in the list of yeas and nays on the Impeachment resolution on Monday. It is due to him to explain that he was absent, attending Court in Somerset. Had he been present, he would have voted FOR impeachment.

VALLANDIGHAM is growling over his defeat in Ohio, like a bear "with a sore head;" and hurls back defiance at the New York World which has undertaken to read him out of the party. What a pity these men will have to wait at least four years before their hunger for office can be fully gratified. But so it has been pre-ordained.

THE Copperheads of Tennessee have recommended the nomination of ANDREW JOHNSON as the Copperhead candidate for the Presidency. JOHNSON is exceedingly anxious for the nomination. We hope he will get it.

A PROPOSITION to move the Capitol from Washington City to the Valley of the Mississippi, was lost by but 20 majority last week. The movement shows great strength, on this first demonstration.

REPUBLICAN ECONOMY vs. DEMOCRATIC EXTRAVAGANCE.

Out of power the Copperheads pretend to be very economical. What they are when in power, the people may see from these official statements made on Monday of last week in the House, by Mr. LAFLIN of New York, Chairman of the Committee on Printing. He said:

Comparing the expenses for public printing, for the year 1859–'60 and the year 1866–'67, he found that the cost of printing for the House of Representatives for the year 1859–'60 was $855,210 00

And the cost of like printing for the year 1866–'67 was 454,339 00

Showing a diminution in the latter year of $900,871 00

And the cost for 1859–'60 was on a gold basis. If the extra cost of material was added, the figures would be, for the year 1859–'60, $862,865, or within $15,814 of double the amount paid for printing for the House last year. During the Thirty-third Congress, when Lynn Boyd was Speaker of the House, there had been paid for printing for the Senate and House of Reps., $2,220,715 00

And during the 39th Congress, with Schuyler Colfax Speaker, 1,535,791 00

Or a diminution in favor of the Republican Administration of $684,924 00

If to the cost of printing for the Thirty-third Congress were added the extra cost of material paid by the Thirty-ninth Congress, it would make the expenditure for the Thirty-third Congress amount to $3,886,251 against $1,535,791 for the Thirty-ninth Congress, showing a saving in favor of Republican economy over Democratic extravagance for one single Congress, in the item of printing only, of $2,350,460. In making this statement he had not taken into account the increase growing out of the war, of the internal revenue, or of population.

These figures tell the whole story. In old Democratic times, CORNELIUS WENDELL, GEO. W. BOWMAN, and other party hacks, had to be enriched at the public expense, and they were made Public Printers for the purpose. The Republicans abolished this system, and established a Government Printing office, in which the work has been done with the admirable results above stated.

If the people wish to restore the Democratic leaders to power, in the face of such facts, they may be sure they'll have "to pay for it."

THOMAS W. CONWAY, who has been in the Southern States several years, writes as follows to a leading Republican in Washington:

> You are well aware that I have traveled extensively over the Southern States, under the auspices not only of your Committee, but also of the National Council of the Union League, and that I am enabled to give something like an intelligent opinion on this whole subject. I will state several facts which Congress and the loyal people of the country had better know now than at a later day:
>
> First—The rebels of the South are determined to defeat, if they can, any plan of reconstruction coming from the present Congress, especially if the right to vote is given to the negroes.
>
> Second—They are as thoroughly organized, and maintain as effective a political and party union among themselves and their Copperhead allies throughout the North as before the rebellion.
>
> Third—They have the entire control of the Associated Press in all the South, and are loud in their boasting over the advantage which that instrumentality affords them over their political opponents.
>
> Fourth—During the past few months they have formed special combinations for the purpose of destroying the vote of the newly enfranchised class; first, by an avowed determination to discharge from employment any negro who votes for the constitution; second, by branding as a traitor any white man who should so vote; third, by removing laboring men from the plantations in the districts where they had the right to vote, to others where they could not exercise that right. In many cases planters living remote from each other agree to make an exchange of their laborers for the purpose of destroying their votes, though I have heard of but few cases where the latter would consent to the removal, and in these nothing but starvation prompted them to it.
>
> Fifth.—Notwithstanding the poverty of the South, and the frequent applications made by the people of that section to Congress for help, large sums of money have been raised for the one purpose of defeating the work of reconstruction in which Congress is engaged.

As showing the temper of Southern Copperheads, we annex a paragraph from a late number of the Vicksburg (Miss.) Times:

> There is not a man who will pay any tax imposed by this convention, and if their tax collectors undertake to enforce collection by seizing and selling the property of the people they will be shot down like dogs, as they are! They will deserve to be shot, and we advise every man to resist the payment of such a tax by all the means God has given him. The Mygatts and Orrs, the Hansers and Gibbs, the Aldersons, and all the other scavengers, may make a note of it.

THE Kentucky "Democracy" are representative of what the "Democracy" would be everywhere, if the Southern States were restored on the Rebel basis. One of their principal organs (the Lexington Observer), has recently declared that the negro ought to be treated as an alien, and that he ought not to be allowed to become an owner of the soil! In Mississippi and several other States, similar legislation was enacted under the JOHNSONIAN system of Reconstruction, showing the malignant spirit of the Secessionists.

If these men are knaves, their policy can be understood; for it would inevitably lead to a rekindling of the fires of civil war. FOUR MILLIONS OF PERSONS CANNOT, in a Republic, be thus outlawed and outraged. A like attempt has shaken many a throne. Its repetition here would be not only a shameful abandonment of every principle of free government, but a wilful imperilling of free institutions themselves.

The country can have peace—ONLY by doing justice. Let the practices of slavery cease with the overthrow of its principle. Herein is the key to the true policy of Reconstruction. Here only is the path to peace and prosperity.

THE Rebels have inaugurated a reign of terror in Alabama; and the outrages perpetrated by them daily are monstrous, and almost beyond belief.

The Montgomery Sentinel gives a table of the vote, not official, showing that 79,909 votes were polled for the Constitution, and 409 against it. In two counties polls were not opened, but will be, and the vote will be over 81,000. The entire registered vote is stated 165,813. It is possible that a majority of the entire registration will prove to have been polled. The Legislature will soon meet, and the State machinery put in motion.

A bill will soon pass both Houses, requiring a majority vote of those polled for ratification, instead of a majority of the entire registration. This is the true principle of elections, is in universal use in the North; and under it, the friends of Reconstruction will have an equal chance with its enemies. At present, the latter have very great advantages, which they use remorselessly for factious purposes.

THE indications are that Gen. GRANT will be unanimously endorsed by the Republican State Convention, which meets in Philadelphia next month. The contest for the Vice Presidency will be between Gov. GEARY, Mr. GROW, and Ex-Gov. CURTIN, with chances in favor of the latter. Gen. HARTRANFT will be renominated for Auditor General, and Mr. CAMPBELL for Surveyor General.

FROM WASHINGTON.

JOHNSON vs. CONGRESS.

"A. J." RESUMES ACTIVE HOSTILITIES.

DARING USURPATION OF POWER.

REMOVAL OF SECRETARY STANTON.

STANTON STILL IN OFFICE—REFUSES TO SURRENDER.

ARREST OF GENERAL L. D. THOMAS.

TENURE OF OFFICE ACT VIOLATED.

GEN. GRANT AND THE ARMY STAND BY CONGRESS.

Impeachment of the President ordered by the House.

President JOHNSON is again on the war path. On Friday last the country was startled by the announcement that the President, in deliberate violation of the laws of the land, had undertaken to depose of Secretary STANTON, and instal Adjutant General LORENZO THOMAS as Secretary of War. The Senate was engaged on the Reconstruction bill, when about 2 P. M. an Executive Communication was received, announcing that the President had removed Hon. E. M. Stanton as Secretary of War, and ordered Adjutant-General Lorenzo Thomas to assume the duties of the War Department, under the authority of an old statute exhumed for the occasion, and which dates prior to the Tenure of Office bill. The news of this action of the Executive flew rapidly over the Senate, and soon a motion was made to go into Executive Session, which was carried by a party vote.

Accompanying the above was also a communication nominating Maj. Gen. George H. Thomas to be Lieut. General and General by brevet—the President being determined to force a collision with Gen. GRANT by bringing some officer to Washington to rank, and probably to supplant him. Lieut. General SHERMAN indignantly declined to be so used, and the President fares no letter with the gallant Thomas, who immediately telegraphed to Washington declining the proffered honor and asking the Senate to refuse to confirm. The President will find it difficult to get any reputable army officer to do his dirty work. Poor old Lorenzo Thomas, without brains and without a military record,—a personal enemy of Gen. Grant—would, if he could.

The Senate immediately went into executive session, and after several hours discussion, adopted the following by a vote of 29 to 6:

> Whereas, The Senate has received and considered the communication of the President, stating that he had removed Edwin M. Stanton, Secretary of war, and had designated the Adjutant General of the Army to act as Secretary of War ad interim; therefore,
> Resolved, By the Senate of the United States, that under the Constitution and laws of the United States, the President has no power to remove the Secretary of War and to designate any other officer to perform the duty of that office ad interim.

Simultaneous with the departure of the President's Secretary for the Capitol, Adjutant General Thomas called upon the Secretary of War and read him his order from Mr. Johnson to take possession of the War Department, all papers, &c., and a letter to Mr. Stanton, from the President, to surrender the office. Mr. Stanton of course declined, and transmitted to the House a copy of the President's order, viz:

> EXECUTIVE MANSION,
> Washington, D. C., Feb. 21, 1868.
>
> SIR: By virtue of the power and authority vested in me as President by the Constitution and laws of the United States, you are hereby removed from office as Secretary of War, and your functions as such will terminate upon receipt of this communication.
>
> You will transfer to Brevet Major General Lorenzo Thomas, Adjutant General of the Army, who has this day been authorized to act as Secretary of War ad interim, all records, books, papers, and other public property now in your custody and charge. Respectfully yours,
>
> ANDREW JOHNSON, President.
> To the Hon. Edwin M. Stanton, Washington, D. C.

The reading of this order, coupled with the President's evident purpose to degrade Gen. GRANT by persisting in his efforts to create a General by brevet, produced intense excitement. The House immediately reversed its previous order to devote Saturday to speeches, and determined to meet for such business as the exigencies of the hour might demand. The order of removal, with a resolution of impeachment, was referred to the Committee on Reconstruction, by a strict party vote, and the House adjourned, many Senators and Members repairing to the War office to counsel Secretary STANTON to stand firm in resisting Executive usurpation.

During Friday night the City of Washington was in a state of feverish excitement, Secretary STANTON remaining in his office all night.

Saturday—Arrest of General Thomas.

Washington, Feb. 22d, 1868.

Early this morning, Adjutant General Lorenzo Thomas was arrested on a warrant issued by Judge Cartter, Chief Justice of the Supreme Court of the District, on an affidavit made by Secretary Stanton, charging him with a violation of the 5th section of the Tenure of Office Bill, which provides that—

> "If any person shall, contrary to the provisions of this act, accept any appointment to or employment in any office, or shall hold or exercise, or attempt to hold or exercise, any such office or employment, he shall be deemed, and is hereby declared to be guilty of high misdemeanor; and, upon trial and conviction thereof, he shall be punished therefor by a fine, not exceeding ten thousand dollars, or by imprisonment, not exceeding five years, or both; said punishment according to the disposition of the court."

The warrant was served at 7 A. M., and General Thomas, after a private interview with the President, appeared in Court and gave bail in $5,000 for a hearing on Wednesday morning at 10 A. M.

Scenes at the War Department.

About 11.30 A. M., General Lorenzo Thomas, having just been released on bail by Judge Cartter, presented himself at the door and told Mr. Stanton he would like to see him.

Mr. Stanton requested him to proceed with anything he had to say. General Thomas remarked that he had come to discharge the duties of Secretary of War ad interim, having been ordered to do so by the President of the United States. Mr. Stanton replied that he could do no such thing, and ordered him to his room to perform his duties as Adjutant General. General Thomas replied that he had been ordered by the President to act as Secretary of War, and he intended to do so. Mr. Stanton again replied that he should not; and ordered him to his own room, and denied the power of the President to make any such order. General Thomas said he would not go; that he should obey the orders of the President and not obey the orders of Mr. Stanton.

Mr. Stanton remarked: "As Secretary of War, I order you to repair to your own place as Adjutant General."

General Thomas—I shall not do so.

Mr. Stanton—Then you may stand there as long as you please, if the President orders you, but you cannot act as Secretary of War.

Gen. Thomas—I shall act as Secretary of War.

General Thomas then withdrew into a room opposite, being Gen. Schofield's room. Mr. Stanton immediately followed him. After some conversation Mr. Stanton said, "Then you claim to be here as Secretary of War and refuse to obey my orders."

General Thomas—I do, sir. I shall require the mails for the War Department to be delivered to me, and shall transact all the business of the War Department.

At this juncture Gen. Grant and an Aid came in. Gen. Grant said, playfully, to Mr. Stanton—Friends, I am surprised to find you here. I supposed you would be at my headquarters for protection.

Gen. Thomas' Subsequent Proceedings.

The Sunday Chronicle says:

> The arrest of Gen. Thomas did not seem to inspire him with greater respect for the law against which he had already offended, for after calling at the White House and drawing fresh counsel and inspiration from that source, he proceeded to the War Department, and entering the office of the Secretary, announced himself as the Secretary of War ad interim, and stated that he was ordered to assume the functions of that office. Gen. Thomas subsequently called at the White House, probably for the purpose of explaining his failure to "take possession of the War Office at all hazards," as he had engaged to do. He had another interview with the President, but what passed between them is not known, unless it be to some of Mr. Johnson's confidential friends. During the afternoon he made another effort to enter the Department building, but the doors were closed by previous order, and the ad interim aspirant was treated like any other intruder having no legitimate business inside—refused admission. A person who also subsequently called at the Department with a communication addressed to General Thomas as Secretary of War, was informed by the officer of the guard that no person by that name was there recognized as acting in that capacity. The officers of the Department have all recognized Mr. Stanton as the proper source of authority, and paid no attention to the claims of Thomas. This fact tends to illustrate the difficulties which beset an official in this country who enters upon a course of usurpation.

The Crowd at the Capitol.

Long before the hour for the assembling of Congress an anxious throng of people crowded the passages and corridors of the Capitol, all drawn as it were by one common conviction that the President was about to be impeached. Every available inch of space in the galleries of the House of Representatives was quickly occupied, and the doorways blocked up with an anxious mass of people struggling vainly to gain admittance.

Impeachment Decided Upon.

Shortly before 2 o'clock the members of the Reconstruction Committee, who had held a final session at 1 o'clock, were seen to enter the House. The venerable "old commoner," Thaddeus Stevens, presently occupied his seat, and just as General Butler moved that the Committee of the Whole House should rise from the consideration of a bill then before it and report to the House, Mr. Stevens rose and stood by, awaiting the resumption of the chair by the Speaker. Immediately there was a hush and the murmurs and buzz of conversation ceased as if by one instinct, and all eyes and ears were strained to watch and hear the momentous proceedings that seemed destined to open a new chapter in the history of the present eventful epoch.

Speaker Colfax having resumed the chair "recognized" the gentleman from Pennsylvania as having the floor. Before Mr. Stevens proceeded, the Speaker earnestly admonished all present that during the proceedings which might take place, no expressions either of approbation or disapprobation could be tolerated. As Mr. Stevens proceeded, as Chairman of the Reconstruction Committee, to present the report, a silence most profound pervaded the vast assemblage; and, weak and tremulous as were the utterances of the venerable statesman, he was distinctly heard throughout the greater part of the hall.

The report submitted by Mr. Stevens having been read, concluding with a resolution "that Andrew Johnson, President of the United States, be impeached of high crimes and misdemeanors," Mr. Stevens made a few brief remarks. He said the report spoke for itself. He did not desire to discuss the question.—All understood it, and he was prepared to vote upon it without debate. If, however, the other side desired to discuss the measure, he was ready to hear whatever they might have to say.

The resolution was debated to a late hour, when the House adjourned with the understanding that a vote should be taken on Monday at 5 P. M. Messrs. Spaulding and Bingham, who have resolutely opposed impeachment heretofore, lead off in earnest and eloquent denunciation of the President's attempted usurpation of power, in flagrantly trampling on the laws of the land and the prerogatives of Congress, which left no alternative but a resort to the Constitutional method of redress, an impeachment at the bar of the Senate. During the discussion the following telegram was read from Gov. Oglesby, of Illinois:

> EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT,
> "SPRINGFIELD, ILL., Feb. 22, 1868.
>
> "The usurpations of Andrew Johnson have created a profound sensation in this State.—His last act is the act of a traitor. His treason must be checked. The duty of Congress seems plain. The people of Illinois attached to the Union, I firmly believe, demand his impeachment, and will heartily sustain such action by our Congress. The peace of the country is not to be trifled with by that presumptuous demagogue. We know the National Congress will proceed wisely and cautiously, but let it proceed. Millions of loyal hearts are panting to stand by the Stars and Stripes. Have no fear. All will be well.—Liberty and order will again triumph.
>
> R. J. OGLESBY Governor."

GOV. GEARY, of Pennsylvania, also telegraphed as follows:

> Hon. Simon Cameron, U. S. Senate, Washington, D. C.: The news to-day has created a profound sensation in Pennsylvania. The spirit of '61 seems again to pervade the Keystone State. Troops are rapidly tendering their services to sustain the laws. Let Congress stand firm. JNO. W. GEARY.

Temper of the Soldiers.

General Emory and Col. Wallace, in command of the department and the troops in the District, have both had interviews with Mr. Johnson to-day, and informed him that they would only obey orders received through Gen. Grant, and the latter informed a New England Senator to-night that the army was a unit, and there would be no danger of any difficulty of orders going to them, except through him.

The President Surprised.

Mr. Johnson never believed, until late yesterday, that the House really meant to impeach him, and even now he hopes to arrest it in the Senate, but in this he will certainly be disappointed.

Senators Hendricks and Dixon were in the House yesterday complaining that the President had entangled himself unnecessarily, without any consultation with the men who alone could protect him, and they could not be responsible for the result.

The following is Maj. Gen. Thomas' despatch, declining the brevet nomination tendered him by the President. There is marked significance in its being addressed to Senator WADE, instead of the President:

> LOUISVILLE, Ky., Feb. 22, 1868.
>
> To Hon. B. F. Wade, President of the Senate:
>
> The morning papers of Louisville announced officially that my name was sent to the Senate for confirmation as brevet lieutenant general and brevet general. For the battle of Nashville I was appointed a major general U. S. A. My services since the war do not merit so high a compliment, and it is now too late to be regarded as a compliment if conferred for service during the war. I therefore earnestly request that the Senate will not confirm the nomination.
>
> GEORGE H. THOMAS, Major General.

Impeachment Resolutions adopted by the House.

WASHINGTON, Monday, Feb. 24.

The House of Representatives having taken a recess on Saturday until 10 o'clock this morning, all Washington was astir after early breakfast to secure seats in the gallery of the House of Representatives. The halls and lobbies were thronged with people, a large proportion of them ladies, before the gallery doors were opened, and by half-past nine o'clock every seat was occupied, and thousands seeking in vain to obtain even standing room. The ladies' gallery presented an array never equalled during any preceding day of the session.—The members were also on the floor at an early hour, and were collected in groups, earnestly discussing the important business about to be considered, reading despatches from home, and listening to various rumors that are afloat as to the probable action of the President and the course to be pursued by Mr. Stanton and Gen. Grant.

The debate was opened by Mr. Ashley, of Ohio, in support of the Impeachment resolution, followed by Messrs. Kelsey, Washburne, Wilson, Woodbridge, Boutwell, Cook, Blair, Poland, Stokes, Judd, Pike, Harding, Broomall, and Benton—while Messrs. Woodward, Wood, Pruyn, Sitgreaves, Eldridge, Marshall, Haight, and Niblack, of the Democratic side, opposed. The speech of Gov. Boutwell was a terrific arraignment of the President in his long career of Executive encroachments on the prerogatives of Congress, while the speeches of Judge Wilson and Washburne attracted much attention—the former having hitherto resolutely opposed impeachment, and the latter being the confidential friend of Gen. Grant. He made a telling speech in support of the impeachment of the President. The longer occupation of the office of President by Andrew Johnson was a perpetual menace against the peace and good order of the country, and would keep us in perpetual turmoil, to the derangement of all manner of business. He had disgraced and brought contempt on the American name. He had defied the Constitution and the laws, and the best interests of the country demanded that he should be removed from the high office that he had dishonored and abused.

Mr. Stevens rose to close the debate, but owing to his feeble health obtained permission from the House to have his speech read by Hon. Edward McPherson, Clerk of the House. The reading of the speech occupied scarcely twenty minutes, and was concluded just as the hands of the clock indicated two minutes of five. The speech was closely listened to, being a calm but incisive statement of the grounds on which the Committee had recommended impeachment, and a fervid appeal to the House to rise to the dignity of the solemn obligations devolved on them.

Mr. Stevens having concluded, the Clerk read the resolution in clear and ringing tones:

"Resolved, That Andrew Johnson, President of the United States, be impeached of high crimes and misdemeanors."

The roll was then called amid profound silence—126 members voting for the adoption of the resolution, and 47 against. The vote was a strictly partizan one, every Republican member voting for impeachment.

Messrs. Stevens and Bingham were then appointed a Committee to proceed to the United States Senate, and in the name of all the people of the United States impeach the President of the United States of high crimes and misdemeanors; and Messrs. Boutwell of Massachusetts, Stevens of Pennsylvania, Bingham of Ohio, Wilson of Iowa, Logan of Illinois, Julian of Indiana and Ward of New York, were appointed a Committee to prepare the articles of Impeachment. Whereupon the House adjourned.

Message from the President.

The President sent to the Senate this morning a message, nominating Hon. Thomas Ewing, of Ohio, to be Secretary of War, in place of Mr. Stanton, removed, and explaining the appointment of Adjutant General Thomas as Secretary ad interim. It is much more respectful in tone than similar documents heretofore sent in, and may be regarded as in form of apology. He claims to have acted within the sphere of his constitutional prerogatives, and argues at length the unconstitutionality of the Civil Tenure Act. The message was read quietly, without eliciting debate.

The War Department.

There was no special excitement around the War Department this morning. Mr. Stanton still occupies his room, not having been home since Friday, and is almost constantly in consultation with Senators and members of Congress. About eleven o'clock, General Thomas, the would-be Secretary ad interim, appeared at the door, having come direct from the President. He was stopped by the guard at the door, and sent in his card to Mr. Stanton. He was immediately admitted, and going to Mr. Stanton's room, where Judge Fisher, General O. O. Howard and several members of Congress were assembled, addressed Mr. Stanton, saying:

"Mr. Stanton, I have this morning again received orders from the President directing me to take charge of the War Department and the records thereof, and discharge the duties of Secretary of War ad interim.—In obedience to that order, sir, I am here to take charge of the Department and assume the duties of Secretary of War ad interim."

Mr. Stanton replied: "I do not acknowledge the authority of the President to give any such order, and refuse to surrender the Department to you. You will proceed to your room, sir, and discharge your duties as Adjutant General of the Army."

General Thomas replied: "I will not do so, sir. I have been ordered by the President to discharge the duties of Secretary of War ad interim, and I will obey that order."

On leaving the building, soon after, he went directly back to the Presidential mansion, where a Cabinet meeting was in progress.

Significant Order From General Grant.

General Grant has issued an important and significant order, calling the attention of the commanders of posts to the recent act of Congress that all orders to the army must pass through his hands, that his headquarters are in Washington, and that orders emanating from any other source must not be obeyed. General Grant has also removed the old guard of the War Department, the 12th Infantry, and detailed men of his own body guard, the 5th Cavalry, to do the duty.

The Indifference of the Democrats.

One of the most striking features in the position of affairs here is the indifference which the Democrats manifest toward Mr. Johnson, and the little sympathy they possess for him. In private conversation Democratic Senators to-day have declared that he acted foolishly in bringing his quarrel with Congress to a point where an indictment for impeachment would be legally sustained; that he has gone too far and too fast, and that having acted without consultation with them, the Democratic party is in no way responsible for his defence.

One thing is certain, that no attempt will be made to get up a revolution in Mr. Johnson's favor, and that the impeachment will be brought to a peaceful and deliberate close in the Senate.

There are various opinions as to how long the trial will last. Mr. Stevens said to-day it ought to be carried out in three days, but he supposed it would take three weeks. The general opinion is that it will not be allowed to extend over a month.

The Grand Army of the Republic.

Numerous despatches have been received from the Grand Army of the Republic, a secret military organization with posts established in all parts of the country, endorsing the action of Congress. The general tenor of these despatches is that the members of the Grand Army of the Republic will not see Congress overthrown, and if violence is used [illegible] Stanton, 100,000 men are ready to march to Washington and put him back.

PHILADELPHIA, February 24.—The Union League of the 5th ward, of this city, fired off a salute of fifty guns this evening in honor of the passage of the impeachment resolution of the House of Representatives.

READING, PA., Feb. 24.—The news of the prompt action of the House in the impeachment movement was received here with great rejoicing. One hundred guns were fired in the square in honor of the event.

AS MATTER of special information at this crisis we present, without note or comment, the text of the law of impeachment as it is found in the Constitution of the United States. It will be seen that Chief Justice CHASE will preside at the trial.

ARTICLE I. SEC. II. The House of Representatives shall choose their Speaker and other officers, and shall have the sole power of impeachment.

ARTICLE I. SEC. III. The Senate shall have the sole power to try all impeachments.—When sitting for that purpose they shall be on oath or affirmation. When the President of the United States is tried the Chief Justice shall preside, and no person shall be convicted without the concurrence of two-thirds of the members present. Judgment in cases of impeachment shall not extend further than to removal from office and disqualification to hold and enjoy any office of honor, trust or profit under the United States, but the party convicted shall nevertheless be liable and subject to indictment, trial, judgment, and punishment according to law.

ARTICLE II. SEC. IV. The President, Vice President, and all civil officers of the United States shall be removed from office on impeachment for, and conviction of, treason, bribery, or other high crimes and misdemeanors.

The present Senate is composed of 42 Republicans and 10 Democrats, with one vacancy in Kentucky and one in Maryland. The former will be filled, but the latter will hardly be filled in time to be of avail in this case; and all voting, thirty-six will be necessary to convict. The only point to be made is: Did Mr. JOHNSON violate any law by issuing the commission to LORENZO THOMAS to assume the duties of the War Department?—Thirty Senators have already voted that he did, three more were absent who believe that he did, and five were paired, making thirty-eight. The other four Republicans are almost certain to vote with their colleagues.

GEN. HALPINE, writing from Washington to the N. Y. Citizen, over the familiar signature of "Miles O'Reilly," refers to the miserable slanders current in Copperhead papers, charging General GRANT with drunkenness. Gen. HALPINE is a prominent Democrat, but an honorable man. He thus disposes of the infamous charge:

> "It is altogether probable, so far as I can now see, that the Citizen may be obliged to oppose the election of Gen. Grant, in consequence of the platform upon which the Radicals are endeavoring to place him; but it is no part of the Democratic creed, as it was taught to me in the old-time councils of Tammany Hall, to fight with poisoned arrows.—Let me, therefore, after full examination, denounce all these recent charges affecting Gen. Grant's habits as utter and DAMNABLE LIES."

THE clamor for the representation of the South in Congress, long and bitterly persisted in by Rebels and Copperheads, is now entirely at an end. The whole present effort is to keep those States in chaos in the hope of electing their candidate for President, and failing therein, to precipitate another war.

NEWS OF NEIGHBORING COUNTIES.

BEDFORD.—The Republicans of Bedford county, at their late county meeting, declared their preference for Hon. John Cessna as the next Republican candidate for Congress.

DAUPHIN.—One evening last week, an employ in the Hardware store of Anthony King, in Harrisburg, went to the cellar with a coal oil lamp, to draw coal oil, when the lamp exploded, setting fire to some rubbish, followed by a terrific explosion demolishing the entire building, and injuring some 20 persons, some in the store and others passing at the time.

FRANKLIN.—Mr. George Collflower, an aged citizen of Waynesboro, died at his residence in that place, on Thursday morning last, after an illness of but a few hours. The cause of his death is supposed to have been heart disease.

LANCASTER.—On Wednesday last, Jacob Hostetter, of Manor township, committed suicide by hanging himself in the entry of the barn.

YORK.—Mr. Michael Wiley, of Warrington twp., has a cow which gave birth, a short time since, to two calves, one of which is perfect and still living. The other was perfectly formed, with the exception that it had two heads, each head having two eyes, mouths and nostrils. It was able to take nourishment with either mouth, and lived five days.—A Railroad is talked of from Hanover Junction to Peachbottom Ferry, on the Susquehanna.—Oliver Kramer, a brakesman on the N. C. Railroad had his right leg broken, last week at Goldsboro, while shifting cars.—Wm. Slagle, has sold a two story dwelling and lot in Hanover, to George Stahl, for $2,000; and Joseph Pfar a 1½ story log house to Mr. Gilbert for $575.—Gov. Geary has issued a death warrant for the execution of Donovan, the murderer of the Squibb family, to take place at York on the 31st of March.

GENERAL A. E. Burnside has been renominated for Governor of Rhode Island.

FRESH shad are now selling in the Baltimore market at from two dollars and a half to five dollars a pair.

THE Democratic National Nominating Convention will meet in New York on the 4th of July.

THE U. S. Senate, on Wednesday, refused to admit Philip F. Thomas, Senator elect from Maryland, on the ground of disloyalty by a vote of 28 to 21.

SNOW.—On Monday another Snow storm set in, continuing until a late hour in the night—snow falling to a depth of 10 to 12 inches.

PENSION.—Last week Mr. McCONAUGHY read in place an act granting a pension to HENRY LITTLE, a soldier of the war of 1812, from Adams county, which was referred to the Committee on Pensions and Gratuities.

SOUTH MOUNTAIN RAILROAD.—The Carlisle Volunteer says that the Cumberland Valley Railroad and the South Mountain Iron Company have determined to build the road from Carlisle to Pine Grove Furnace as soon as practicable.

SALES.—The reader's attention is directed to the advertisement of sale of Personal Property of ANDREW WEIKERT, Highland township, March 13—and to the sale of Personal Property of JESSE COOK, near York Springs, to take place on the 17th of March.

BEQUESTS.—Mr. EPHRAIM HEAGY, of Oxford township, whose death took place on the 4th ult., bequeaths in his Will $200 to the German Reformed Church at New Oxford, $150 to the Orphans' Home at Womelsdoff under charge of the same denomination, and $150 to Home Missions.

A GOOD ARTICLE.—SAMUEL HERBST, of this place, has purchased Hickman, Wright & Baldwin's "Gum Elastic Anti-Cribber," and is prepared to sell individual and township rights. It is a novel and ingenious contrivance to break up the bad habit of "cribbing" among horses, and every farmer should have them at hand.

EXPLOSION.—On Thursday of last week, a steam pipe attached to the steam saw mill of Miltenberger & Brady, in the South Mountain, exploded with considerable force, doing some damage. Mr. E. Perie was severely scalded by the escaping steam about the hands and face, but his injuries are not likely to prove fatal.

NORMAL SCHOOL.—Mr. SHEELY, County Superintendent, will re-open his Normal School in this place on the 30th of March.—As the number of pupils will be limited, application for admission should be made promptly. Mr. SHEELY has made a faithful Superintendent, and in providing these training schools for Teachers, is largely benefitting the School system of the county.

SALES.—Dr. E. G. FAHNESTOCK on Saturday last bought at public sale the Holtzworth property on East Middle street, a two-story frame dwelling and lot, for $950.

ISAAC DEARDOFF has purchased the property of HENRY McDANNELL, near town—16 acres, with improvements—at $2,100.

DANIEL LASHELL has sold his House and Lot on Washington street, to Rev. Mr. JAMISON, of the Associate Reformed Church, for $1150 cash.

THE 22D.—The memory of WASHINGTON was duly honored in this place, on Saturday last, the stores and places of business being generally closed during the afternoon. The Zouaves were out in full dress, parading the streets, while numerous national flags were displayed from public buildings and private residences. The Zouaves went through their usual drill, attracting much attention, by reason of the precision and skill with which the commands were executed. In the target firing Charles Gilbert, of Mountjoy township, proved the best shot and takes the Company medal for the ensuing year.

LEGISLATIVE.—Among the House bills passed last Friday we notice one entitled. "A supplement to an act to enable the Governor to incorporate a company to make an artificial road, by the nearest and best route, from the west end of the borough of York to the borough of Gettysburg, in the county of Adams, approved the 11th day of March, A. D. 1815." We do not exactly understand the purport of this bill but suppose it has reference to the York & Gettysburg Turnpike Company, which, we understand, is seeking legislation to compel parties travelling on the pike to pay toll, whether they pass through a gate or not.

ANNIVERSARY EXERCISES.—The anniversary exercises of the Phrenakosmian Society of Penna. College, on Saturday evening, in Agricultural Hall, drew out a crowded house. The capacity of the Hall was fully tested, being filled to overflowing. The exercises were as follows:

Music—"Night shades no longer."
Prayer—by REV. DR. BAUGHER.
Music—"Oh, how I love my mountain home."
"Liberty,"—by JACOB RHONE, Centre Hall, Pa.
"Freedom of the Press,"—by J. W. RICHARD, Winchester, Va.
"Torments of Conscience,"—by H. ALLEMAN, Selinsgrove, Pa.
Music—"These moments entrancing."
"Permanence of Literary Fame,"—by W. A. LIST, Wheeling, W. Va.
"Nothing is Lost,"—by A. J. ERDMAN, Macungie, Pa.
"Wrongs of Ireland,"—by T. R. BEEBER, Muncy, Pa.
Music—"Castanet and gay Guitar."
"Poetry,"—by A. S. HARTMAN, Littlestown, Pa.
"Shakespeare on Retribution,"—by P. K. ERDMAN, Centre Valley, Pa.
Music—"Our Banner of Glory."
Benediction—by PROF. FERRIER.

The addresses of the young gentlemen who represented the Society on this occasion, were creditable productions, varying, of course, in excellence, but all were well received by the audience who manifested their appreciation by repeated applause. The marked tendency to "Shakspearian" illustrations, running through the different speeches, showed that the great Poet was a special favorite and had been closely studied. Without going into with invidious details, we may remark that the efforts as a whole, in matter, style and manner, were an improvement upon similar exercises, and reflect much credit on all concerned.

The music was provided by amateur vocalists, accompanied by instrumental music, embracing the best musical talent of the town, and was in itself a rich entertainment.

LECTURE.—The fourth of the course of Lectures in Agricultural Hall on Friday evening last, turned out not to be a "Lecture,"—Rev. Dr. MORRIS, of Baltimore, having determined to vary the exercises by giving a series of Readings, which, by reason of novelty and capital rendering of the selections, made quite a favorable impression on the large audience attracted by the Dr's. reputation as a public lecturer. Among other selections, Dr. MORRIS read from Henry VIII, Scene 1, the interview between Cardinal Wolsey and Cromwell; from Julius Cæsar, Act 1, Scene 2, the passage in which Cassius urges Brutus to unite in the conspiracy to assassinate Cæsar; Poe's "Raven," "Sam Weller's Valentine," "The Sleeping Sentinel," &c. Wolsey and Sam Weller's Valentine were especially well rendered, the former evincing a fine conception of the poet's idea of blighted ambition, and the latter exhibiting the Dr's. keen relish for the humorous.

The next Lecture will be delivered on Friday evening, by Rev. Dr. McCRON, of Baltimore, by many regarded the most eloquent pulpit orator of the monumental city. His subject will be: "Industry—its Trials and Triumphs."

ORPHAN'S HOME.—A pleasant reception took place at the National Orphans' Homestead, on Saturday afternoon, the large School Room being crowded with visitors. An illuminated motto, "God bless our Home," spanned the entrance to the main building, while the School Room proper was gaily decked with National flags. The Orphans, 60 in number (35 girls and 25 boys), were seated on an elevated platform—the girls wearing blue dresses, with white sashes and shields with the names of the various States emblazoned thereon, the boys wearing either shields or miniature flags.—Above the platform was suspended a large card with the words "WASHINGTON—1732," wreathed in green, while on either side of the room were portraits of WASHINGTON and GRANT. The decorations were all in good taste and reflected much credit on the Committee who superintended them. The exercises were opened with prayer by Prof. FERRIER, followed by a Poetical Recitation, entitled "Salutation to the Flag," the production of Miss LATIMER, in which four of the children participated. Maj. CLEETON, the New England Agent of the Home, read are essay on the "Boyhood of Washington," and Lieut. NORTON an original poem by Miss LATIMER, "The Drunkard's Wife."—This was followed by an allegorical tableaux of the 13 original States, entitled "Tribute to Washington," an original poetical production by Miss LATIMER, in which the States were represented by an equal number of the children—all uniting in the chorus,

> "Joined hand in hand the new States come,
> To bless the name of Washington."

Remarks were made by Prof. FERRIER, and D. McCONAUGHY, Esq., while Maj. CLEETON gave some interesting details of his experience as Agent of the Home in the New England States. The exercises were interspersed with frequent singing by the children, closing with the national hymn, "America, 'tis of thee."

The Home has now under its care 60 Orphans of the fallen heroes of the Republic, and is managed by Lieut. NORTON, who served in the 153th New York Regiment, assisted by Mrs. NORTON, Mrs. HUMMISTON, Miss CLAYTON, Miss LATIMER, and Mr. J. C. BURNS. After the exercises, the buildings and grounds were thrown open to the visitors—everything being in excellent order.—We are under obligations to Mrs. ROBERT HORNER, (who takes an active interest in the Home,) for sundry attentions during our visit.

At the close of the exercises, the Zouaves, under Capt. NORRIS, made their appearance on the grounds and drilled for a half hour or more, in presence of the Orphans, much to their gratification.

CONSUMPTION.—Notwithstanding the many articles advertised to cure Consumption, we do not believe, when seated too long it can not be cured. But we do know of hundreds of cases where persons were supposed to be suffering under that fatal disease, who have become perfectly well and robust from the use of Speer's Port Grape Wine. Many times people for years waste and at last die from diseases of the kidneys or glands, when they were supposed to have and were treated for Consumption. A long-continued affection of the kidneys, however, may eventually result in Consumption. Speer's wine, used alone, or taken with a fresh raw egg, or new milk, daily, has been found to be an excellent remedy, and has the reputation of rendering a perfect cure for Consumption.—Medical Times.

The wine certainly contains valuable properties; let our physicians and invalids try it. To be had of druggists. feb.26,1t

ADDRESS TO THE NERVOUS and debilitated whose sufferings have been protracted from hidden causes, and whose cases require prompt treatment to render existence desirable. If you are suffering or have suffered from involuntary discharges, what effect does it produce upon your general health? Are you weak, debilitated, easily tired? Does a little extra exertion produce palpitation of the heart? Does your liver, or urinary organs, or your kidneys, frequently get out of order? Is your urine sometimes thick, milky, or flocky, or is it ropy on settling?—Or does a thick scum rise to the top? Or is a sediment at the bottom after it has stood awhile? Do you have spells of short breathing or dyspepsia? Are your bowels constipated? Do you have spells of fainting or rushes of blood to the head? Is your memory impaired? Is your mind constantly dwelling upon this subject? Do you feel dull, listless, moping, tired of company, of life? Do you wish to be left alone, to get away from everybody?—Does any little thing make you start or jump? Is your sleep broken or restless? Is the lustre of your eye as brilliant? The bloom on your cheek as bright? Do you enjoy yourself in society as well? Do you pursue your business with the same energy? Do you feel as much confidence in yourself? Are your spirits dull and flagging, given to fits of melancholy? If so, do not lay it to your liver or dyspepsia. Have you restless nights?—Your back weak, your knees weak, and have but little appetite, and you attribute this to dyspepsia or liver-complaint?

Now, reader, self-abuse, venereal diseases badly cured, and sexual excesses, are all capable of producing a weakness of the generative organs. The organs of generation, when in perfect health, make the man. Did you ever think that those bold, defiant, energetic, persevering, successful business-men are always those whose generative organs are in perfect health? You never hear such men complain of being melancholy, of nervousness, of palpitation of the heart. They are never afraid they cannot succeed in business; they don't become sad and discouraged; they are always polite and pleasant in the company of ladies, and look you and them right in the face—none of your downcast looks or any other meanness about them. I do not mean those who keep the organs inflamed by running to excess. These will not only ruin their constitutions, but also those they do business with or for.

How many men from badly-cured diseases, from the effects of self-abuse and excesses, have brought about that state of weakness in those organs that has reduced the general system so much as to induce almost every other disease—idiocy, lunacy, paralysis, spinal affections, suicide, and almost every other form of disease which humanity is heir to, and the real cause of the trouble scarcely ever suspected, and have doctored for all but the right one.

Diseases of these organs require the use of a diuretic.—HELMBOLD'S FLUID EXTRACT BUCHU is the great Diuretic, and is a certain cure for diseases of the Bladder, Kidneys, Gravel, Dropsy, Organic Weakness, Female Complaints, General Debility, and all diseases of the Urinary Organs, whether existing in Male or Female, from whatever cause originating and no matter of how long standing.

If no treatment is submitted to, Consumption or Insanity may ensue. Our flesh and blood are supported from these sources, and the health and happiness, and that of Posterity, depends upon prompt use of a reliable remedy.

Special Notices.

THERE ARE TWO SPECIAL QUALITIES WHICH DETERMINE and fix the superiority of Mrs. S. A. ALLEN'S NEW STYLE IMPROVED HAIR RESTORER or DRESSING, in one bottle, over all other preparations for the HAIR. First, the prompt, quick action, great growth, life, and vigor that it is sure to give to the Hair, never failing, by a few applications, to restore Gray or White Hair to its natural color, imparting to the Hair a delightful aroma, fresh, delicate, and unchangeable in any climate. Second, its easy application without any previous preparation of the Hair; without that sticky and disagreeable sulphur odor found and complained of in all other preparations. It never soils the skin or linen. Ladies will find it a standard Toilet luxury to dress their Hair. It retains the Hair in any desired position, and is cooling, healing, and cleansing to the Scalp, removing immediately all scurf, dandruff, and pimples. Price one dollar. Sold by all Druggists.

Among the many restoratives which nature has supplied to relieve the afflictions of humanity, there is no more favorite one for a certain class of diseases than the "medicinal gum" of the Wild Cherry Tree; but however valuable it is, its power to heal, to soothe, to relieve and to cure, is enhanced tenfold by scientific and judicious combination with other ingredients, in themselves of equal worth. This happy mingling exists to a remarkable degree in whose value in curing Coughs, Colds, Bronchitis, Whooping Cough, Croup, Asthma, Pulmonary Affection, and Incipient Consumption is inestimable.

DR. WISTAR'S BALSAM OF WILD CHERRY,

STRONG TESTIMONY.

From BENJAMIN WHEELER, Esq., Depot Master of South Royalston, Mass.

"In the spring of 1858 I was severely afflicted with a hard, dry cough, with its usual accompaniments of night sweats, completely prostrating my nervous system, and producing such a debilitated state of health that, after trying medical aid to no purpose, I had given up all hopes of ever recovering, as had also my friends. At this stage of matters I was prevailed upon through the influence of a neighbor to try Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry, and, before using two bottles, the effect was almost magical. My cough entirely left me, the night sweats deserted me, hope once more elated my depressed spirits, and soon I had attained my wonted strength and vigor. Thus has this Balsam, as has often been remarked by persons conversant with the above facts, literally snatched me from the yawning grave. You are at liberty to use this for the benefit of the afflicted."

McKEESPORT, Dec. 19, 1867.

Messrs. LIPPINCOTT & Co.

SIRS:—I have fully tried your Patent Axe and find that it is all that you claim for it. It will chop faster than any other Axe that I ever saw, and leaves the wood without sticking at all. I would not chop three days without one for the cost. I need not say any more, for any man that tries one will be satisfied.
WM. KEES.

CAUTION!—The Axe and the Label are both patented. Infringers on these patents will be prosecuted according to law. Venders or dealers, and persons using any infringement, are liable with the maker of the infringement.

☞ For sale by all Dealers and the manufacturers,

CHESTNUT LAND AT PRIVATE SALE.

I will sell 160 ACRES, 2 miles west of Millerstown.—The Timber is principally Chestnut with some Black Oak and Walnut. The land is easy of access and the soil first-rate.

100 Acres can be easily cleared and the Timber will pay for the land and clearing, as a portion of it will cut 1000 Rails to the Acre. There are two capital Springs on the Tract. It will be sold in a body for $8.00 per acre; or in lots to suit—together it would make a nice Farm for a man with small means. ☞ For terms,

VALUABLE TANNERY AT PRIVATE SALE.

The subscriber, wishing to give up the Tanning business, offers at Private Sale, his valuable TANNERY, situate on South Baltimore street, Gettysburg, Pa., including Brick Beam Shop with 1 pool, 2 limes, and six handlers; Brick Currying Shop; Brick and Frame Bark Mill House; 38 lay-away Vats on the yard, with 8 Leeches and room to add any additional number—constant running Spring water, never-failing, in tan-yard and shops.

This Tannery is located in a region where good Bark is abundant at reasonable prices. Possession of the Tannery will be given to the purchaser immediately, if desired, with a supply of bark to run it.

There is besides a large Two-story BRICK DWELLING on the property, with Spring House, Smoke House, Wood Shed, Barn, Corn Crib, Wagon Shed and other outbuildings, with a well of water and also hydrant at kitchen door, with running water through Spring House. There is a variety of best quality of growing Grapes and Fruit on the premises. The property is in good condition, and in every respect a most desirable residence and business stand.

Also, will be sold, A LOT OF GROUND adjoining above, containing 1½ Acres, more or less, with an Apple Orchard and a first-class Spring and Bathing Establishment on it.

Also, A LOT OF GROUND, on the Emmittsburg road, one-half mile from town, containing 8 Acres, which the purchaser can also have, if desired.

☞ Persons desiring to view the premises, or ascertain further particulars, will address the subscriber, residing in Gettysburg, Pa. JOHN WINEBRENNER.

A DESIRABLE TOWN PROPERTY AT PRIVATE SALE.

THE undersigned offers at Private Sale, the old DOBBIN DWELLING, at the junction of the Taneytown and Emmittsburg roads, in the borough of Gettysburg. The house is substantially built of stone, and contains twelve large rooms. There is a strong, never-failing Spring of first rate water in the basement and 1½ Acres of land connected with it. The location is a very pleasant one, and with a little additional outlay this could be made one of the most comfortable and desirable homes in the borough or its vicinity.

The Farmer and Housekeeper.

[For the Star and Sentinel.

MESSRS. EDITORS:—About two years ago, a correspondent proposed that some important subject of interest should be taken up for discussion during the long evenings when able hands or intelligent minds have leisure. I felt pleased with the suggestion, hoping to have the pleasure of perusing something of extra interest.

I will venture to propose a question which should be interesting, and might be advantageous to many of your patrons, as I suppose them to be chiefly farmers.

Will hired labor pay at farming?—Many farmers have always supposed it safest, consequently best to do all they can within themselves, and have become so conservative in their principles, that they are slow to adopt new methods of managing their farms. If sufficient arguments and directions can be furnished in favor of more extensive operations some might be disposed to take advantage of them for their own and country's good.

Oxford, Feb. 6, 1868. G.

RAISING OF SHEEP.

This is without doubt the most important branch of Sheep Husbandry, and one upon which too much attention cannot be bestowed. It may not perhaps apply so generally to those farmers in this immediate part of the State, for most of those who keep sheep at all keep what are called flying flocks; that is, they choose their stock from year to year, either buying lean sheep from the drovers, and, after keeping them awhile, sell them fat to the drovers again to go to the butchers; but still there are a great many farmers who keep standing flocks generally for the improvement of some particular breed. In order to breed sheep successfully it is necessary that several important particulars be strictly attended to. When I say successfully, I do not speak merely in regard to increase in numbers, for some of the poorer breeds of sheep will produce as many lambs as those greatly superior to them; but in the production of those animals which possess as many as possible of those valuable properties which distinguish the breed.

The first and most important of these, and the one upon which the future success of the flock in a great measure depends, is the selection of the flock of breeding ewes.

These should be chosen with reference to the following particulars: The frame work of the body should be of sufficient size to admit of the fœtus being properly developed; reference should also be had to the lacteal properties; and they should also be examined with reference to their wool and flesh-producing properties; also evince a quiet disposition; and not be given unduly to wandering.

Without the possession of the first two properties it is impossible that anything but stinted animals can be produced; without the two second, all that is valuable in a sheep, and for which alone sheep are raised, will, if not lost, be greatly impaired; and without the last there is danger of the lambs, after being dropped, being left to perish. Sheep possessing a quiet disposition also take on fat more rapidly.

The next particular, and one which is almost as important as the first, is the selection of the ram. I say almost as important; for the question is only in respect to degree; for without doubt, if the ram is inferior to the ewes, the lambs will also be inferior to them; and as the ram's influence is felt as fully on the future flock as the ewe's, so also is it a comparatively simple matter to select a ram of desirable qualities as it would be to select a flock of ewes possessing like qualities.

It is necessary that great care be taken in selecting a ram. It is not only necessary that as many desirable qualities as possible be combined in himself, but it should also be ascertained that his parents possessed like qualities; for it is by no means reasonable to suppose that the lambs gotten by a perfect animal will possess like points without those points have been regularly transmitted to him by his parents.

If the necessary care has been taken in the selection of the ram and ewes, it is but reasonable to suppose that lambs will be superior animals, provided the proper amount of care and attention has been bestowed upon the ewes.

The raising of lambs will be materially assisted by attention to one or two points. It should be seen, too, that they are comfortably sheltered during inclement weather; they should have an airy apartment, yet it should be sufficiently close to exclude all draft and any excess of cold.

While with their mothers and on good grass, lambs will not require any extra feeding, although the addition of a little grain will be of benefit; but during those seasons of the year when it is necessary to keep them confined, care should be taken in selecting their food, and that kind should be chosen which has a tendency to more especially increase the bone and muscle than the fat.—Germantown Telegraph.

MANURING POTATOES IN THE HILL.—If it were not for the amount of labor required we should manure all hoed crops in the hill or row. We are convinced that manure applied in this way is of far more use to the crop than when spread broadcast. If near, or in the hill, (not directly in contact with the seed,) it invigorates the young plant and it gets prosperously started early in the season.—Take a hill of corn, for example, and suppose that the coarse manure has been carelessly spread; the bulk of it may be nearer to the middle of the row than to the plants it is designed to benefit. In this case, how long will it take for the corn roots to extend and appropriate the nutriment? But we started to note the experience and practice of a successful potato grower, for the benefit of our readers. It has been his invariable practice, during a long series of trials with this crop, to manure in the hill; and the result was he raised large crops and got rich. After the potatoes were planted it was his custom to load the barn-yard manure on a wagon, drive into the field and put a forkful on each hill.—When the plants first appeared he hoed them, drawing up the fresh dirt and covering the manure. By this practice the manure was made to serve as a mulch as well as a fertilizer. We have no doubt but that the farmer derived enough extra benefit from this method of applying the manure, to compensate him for the increased labor.—Rural New Yorker.

FIRE-FANGED MANURE.—Some kinds of manure are more liable to be fire-fanged than other kinds. Horse manure, if allowed to lie in considerable quantities, is apt to undergo the process of fermentation under high heat, when it assumes a mouldy, whitish appearance, and becomes very light. It suffers an immense loss, so much so that its virtue is gone, and as compared with unheated manure, it will produce scarcely any appreciable effect. The fertilizing qualities, especially ammonia, are thrown off, and the mass is left inert and useless.

In the management of manures, therefore care should be taken to prevent too great a heat by composting and forking over. Loam and muck, if mixed freely under the stables, will preserve the heap, prevent fire-fanging, and thus prove very useful. It is a good plan to lay in a store of these substances, to be mixed occasionally with the manure heap through the winter.—Mass. Ploughman.

The above is all very well, but a better method is to turn the pile over and water it thoroughly while turning. This will cause the heap to ferment thoroughly all through.—American Farmer.

Watches for the Million!

ARRANDALE & CO'S GREAT WATCH CLUB.

EVERYBODY needs a good watch, and wishes to get it at the lowest possible price; a horde of swindlers knowing this have contrived various ingenious devices to get people's money, and then either fail to send a watch, or send one that is worthless as a time-keeper. ARRANDALE & CO. have now perfected arrangements by which, for the small sum of $10, a good and reliable watch may be CERTAINLY obtained. They have formed a GREAT WATCH CLUB on the following plan. Certificates containing the numbers of all the watches named in our wholesale list (which is sent to all applicants) are mixed up, enclosed in envelopes, and sold for 25 cents each.—Every certificate is WARRANTED to be for a watch, and as will be seen on reference to the list, none are of less value than Ten Dollars, whilst some are worth $300.—We undertake to send any watch drawn whatever may be its value for $10, and in order that every one may absolutely depend upon getting a first class time-keeper, we guarantee that every purchaser of One Dollar's worth of certificates shall receive at least one for watch No. 533 on our wholesale list, sent post free, which is a first-class patent lever, a handsome and reliable watch, in sterling silver hunting case, and usually sold for $40. You will certainly get such a watch; and, besides, you may get a Gold Chronometer worth $500. We sell the certificates as follows: One for 25 cents; Three for 50 cents; Six for $1; and Twenty for $3. To those sending $1, we will send a handsome chain gratis. To those sending $3, we will send a gold chain warranted not to tarnish in 20 years—Parties getting up larger clubs will receive liberal presents, particulars of which may be learned on application. As it is our intention to do a strictly honorable business, and to insure our customers from liability to loss, we will send our watches, if desired, without money, instructing the Express agent to collect only on delivery. If we are desired to forward watches by mail, the money must be sent us by Bank Draft or Post Office Order, and it will then be at our risk. We will then register the package at our post office, and if lost will re-place it free of charge. If any watch sent is not approved, it may be returned and the money will be refunded. The reputation of our firm, which has been established for five years, and is well known in every part of the country, we trust will be deemed a sufficient guarantee that we will faithfully perform all we contract to do.
